Why we think NASA is important

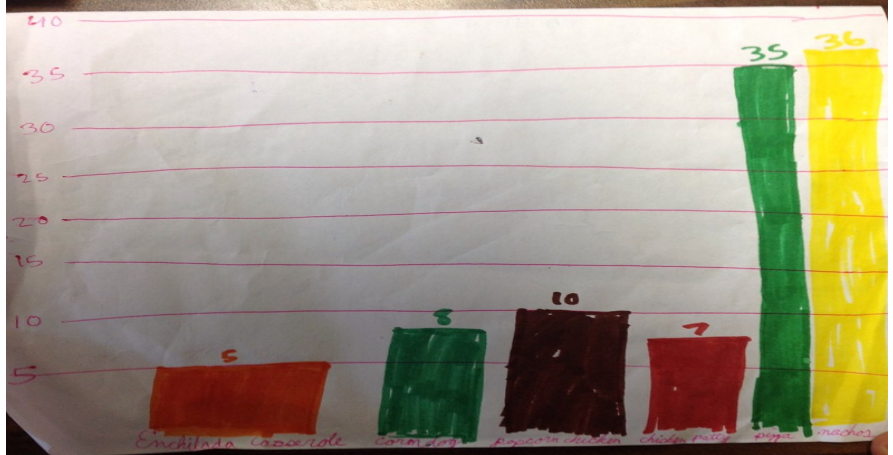

By: Vincent and Simon

NASA is one the most important programs on Earth for a few different reasons. They know if meteors are on there way to destroy us or if we are in any other danger. If we do not have any information of this, we could die a tragic and unexpected death. If we knew how and why our planet is endangered then, we might be able to survive. NASA is trying to not overpopulate the Earth because they are trying to make it possible to live on the planet Mars. NASA, in our opinion, is an important program that should continue.

Lunch Room Survey Results

By: Kimberly, Kanni and Cecelia

We took a survey of the 102 students and staff members from elementary school at Sacred Heart Catholic School to find out which lunch from the lunchroom was their favorite. Their choices were nachos, pizza , enchilada casserole, corndogs, popcorn chicken, and chicken patties. Nachos won by one vote! The second most popular choice was pizza. Below is a graph representing our results.

TROLLS (a fictional story) by: Dillon

Once trolls ruled the world. They loved stealing socks to take to there kin. They then put them on there nose to keep them warm. This produced holes in the socks. So if your sock goes missing and when you find it the sock has holes, blame the trolls.

Bible Verse of the Quarter

by: Blaise

Reflections based on Luke 15:1-7 Parable of the Lost Sheep.

When someone is a sinner, they are still God's child. Try to bring them back to the faith. No matter what they do, still love them. Pray for them. Believe in them. Go to great lengths for them. Go the extra mile. Because if you do you get a friend and you save that person from Hell. You will feel the best because you helped bring a soul to God and His everlasting love.

Without You by: Tatum

First, 'twas a joke,
Gone on too far.
The blood seeping out
From the cracks of my heart.

Bellows from my room.
Days playing on repeat.
Never held my head up,
Just looked down to my feet.

They ask me, "What's wrong?"
With a melancholy face.
"Nothing," I lie.
No sincerity, nor grace.

Weeks fly by,
A word not yet said.
On my mind, you were,
Prancing around,
In my head.

"Only fools fall for you",
The words of Troye Sivan.
A life to live all alone,
Then I'll be dead and gone.

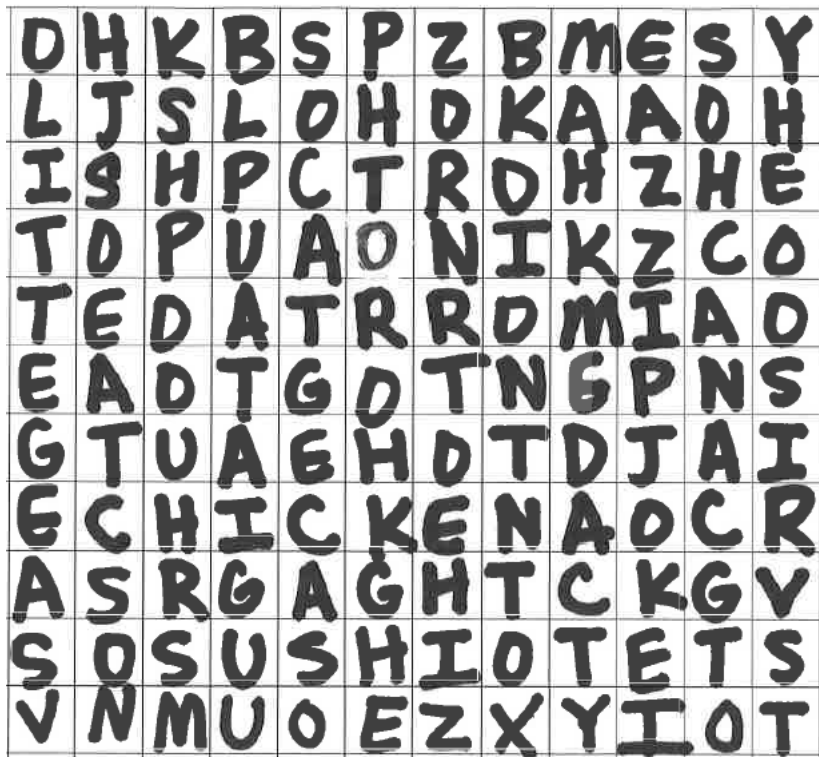

Such a drag
It makes me mad.
How could you just leave me like that,
Knowing how weak I am...
Without you.

Our Teacher of the Quarter is Ms. Gibson!

We love you Ms. Gibson and we're glad you're at our school!
